I learned how to cross-stitch and made myself this cool bookmark!

I got to operate this machine in a working Machine Shop!

"It's an educational view of fun, or vice-versa."

I made a silhouette of myself and other great arts and crafts!

"A very nice hands-on camp for a very reasonable price."

The counselors were great! I really learned a lot from them!

"This was a really fun experience. Being active was much better than spending the time indoors - probably in front of the computer."

"It's very cool and fun, the best camp I have been to."

Finding objects on an archaeological dig was fun!

"My son really liked the camp and I was impressed with how much he learned."

"It was a lot of fun because I was outside and getting exercise instead of sitting around on the couch watching tv."

One day we learned how to spin yarn out of wool!

Hagley's summer camps are unique learning adventures, integrating history, science, and the arts. Children enjoy experiencing something completely new to them every day! All of Hagley's camps offer both indoor and outdoor activities on our beautiful 235-acre property along the Brandywine; small groups of fifteen campers led by two adult instructors and three teen counselors; two age groups with developmentally appropriate activities for younger and older children; and educational enrichment that supports Delaware curriculum standards.

July 6-10: Games Unplugged (Ages 7-9)

Campers will find out how to have fun without electricity! No iPods or Xboxes here, just good old-fashioned games and other popular amusements of the 1800s.

July 13-17: Lost Skills and Arts (Ages 7-12)

Campers will get to try out some of the skills children used every day in the 1800s. Before shopping malls and McDonalds, children learned to make their own clothes and toys, prepare snacks from fresh ingredients, woodwork, fish, and many other "lost arts".

We went on an archaeological dig and found some amazing stuff!

July 20-24: Gears, Engineers, and Science Frontiers (Ages 11-13)

Campers will take on engineering challenges, while learning how engineers have helped to shape our world from the time of water wheels and steam engines to Lycra and Teflon.

I couldn't wait to show my mom what I learned about plant care!

"I was impressed by your staff, the counselors, and the well-planned activities."

"Extremely well-run camp. I wish parents could attend!"

"We learned a lot and had fun doing it."

Making bottled sand art was so much fun!
