

The Center for the History of Business, Technology, and Society, Hagley Museum and Library, Wilmington, Delaware is pleased to announce the recipients of grants and fellowships awarded mid-July 2021.

Exploratory Grant

Peter Astras

Ph.D. Candidate

St. John's University

"You think you know what nature is": The Literary and Historical Ecology of Lake Hopatcong

R. Claire Bunschoten

Ph.D. Candidate

University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

From Ice Cream to Vanilla Ice: Vanilla's Many Permutations and Meanings in the Long Twentieth Century

Peter Christensen

Associate Professor

University of Rochester

The Architectural Patent

Graham Clure

Post Doctoral Fellow

University of Lausanne

Enlightenment Agrarian Republics: From Vaud to Poland and America

Sean Delehanty

Ph.D. Candidate

The John Hopkins University

The Shareholder Value Revolution

Cory Fischer-Hoffman

Visiting Assistant Professor

Lafayette College

Unearthing the Global Division of Labor: Bethlehem Steel's Latin American Mines

Alexander Fleet

Ph.D. Candidate

Wayne State University
Company Unions and Worker Identity

Jeremy Goodwin
Ph.D. Candidate
Cornell University
Entrepreneurs and Job Creators: The Neoliberal Politics of American Small Business in 1970s and 1980s

Benjamin Kletzer
Ph.D. Candidate
University of California-San Diego
China's Dream of the Red Railway: Professional Railroaders and the Making of an Industrial Power, 1945-1976

Alexander Liebman
Ph.D. Candidate
Rutgers University
Algoecological Farming: Prehistories of agriculture's digital turn

Angus McLeod
Ph.D. Candidate
University of Pennsylvania
"Industry on Parade": The Business Community and Vocational Education, 1940-1990

Kevin Moskowitz
Ph.D. Candidate
University of Texas at Arlington
Detroit Muscle: Automobile Manufacturing and the Middle West, 1913-1959

Charles Petersen
Post Doctoral Fellow
Cornell University
A New History of Employee Stock Options

Pablo Pryluka
Ph.D. Candidate
Princeton University
Expectations and Inequality: A History of Consumption in South America (1930s-1970s)

Corinna Schlombs
Associate Professor
Rochester Institute of Technology
A Menial Revolution: Data Entry, Labor Identity, and Inequality in Cold War Computer Automation

Julia Silverman
Ph.D. Candidate
Harvard University
"Designing a Useable Future During the Indian New Deal"

Chelsea Spencer
Ph.D. Candidate
MIT
The Contract, the Contractor, and the Capitalization of American Building, ca. 1865-1930

Phoebe Springstubb
Ph.D. Candidate
MIT
Climate Knowledge, the Seasonal Worker, and the Business of Winter

H.B. du Pont Fellowship

Mark Markov
Ph.D. Candidate
University of Durham, UK
Wars not Fought: Neutrality and European Navies in American Waters during the US Civil War
Two weeks